Greetings,

I hope you all are doing well, enjoying some cooler temperatures and getting ready for all the fall festivities. I want to start out by thanking those who are working hard to get their child to school on time. It is so helpful when everyone is on time and ready for class. While I thank you for all your efforts to be early there is a point when it becomes too early. Arriving before 7:50 am is simply too early. Students are not supposed to be in the building before 8am. We are having more and more arriving before 7:50am and the 15-20 students that are coming early are posing some issues like crowding and behavioral. So please make sure you are not dropping your students off before 7:50 because there is no guarantee they will be able to get in the building and with the temperatures getting colder I would hate for them to have to wait out in the cold. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter. Have a great weekend.

Mr. Banker
